While Mr. Hayes declare he cansubstantiate his charges, it was stated today on good authority that the accused officials will be vindicated by the general assembly. The assembly will vote upon the matter early next week.

Thomas Sinexon, bookkeeper for Sec-

if necessary, substantiate the charges which Mr. Hayes makes. Should the General Assembly formally express its confidence in Mr. Powderly and Messrs. Wright and Devlin as, it is said, will be the case, it is regarded as very probable that Mr. Hayes will be ousted and his duties transferred to some member of the executive board.

The convention will adjourn about the middle of next week.

It has been left to a St. Louis business man to construct a gravel walk, neither long nor strikingly beautiful, that is a modern, if comparatively humble, rival of the glistening highways of fiction and fable, for it represents $15,000 hard cash. Edward P. Kinsella, vice president of the Hanley-Kinsella Coffee Company, is the proud possessor of this unique walk. It is composed of several tons of Brazilian pebbles that came to him in an ordinary busi-ness way during the past few years. This firm are heavy importers of Brazilian coffee. The pebbles represent a weight that in coffee would be worth $16,000. Chicago's Big Givers.

From Harper's Weekly.

The immediate future of Chicago is an interesting study for observers. All eyes have been centered upon her now for six ant city in the land, and of course she has felt her importance. What will become to hardpan, and become once more a com-paratively commonplace big western town, tremendous hustling to maintain the cen-tral and commanding position which was lent to her by the fair? Of course that remains to be seen, but she has given some evidence already that she does not intend to drop an inch farther than she can help. Mr. Marshall Field's subscription of a million dollars to found a museum of natural better. tural history may be accepted as an infair, and perhaps to house it in the art building at Jackson Park. Mr. Pullman follows Mr. Field's subscription with one of a hundred thousand dollars, and doubtless before this reaches the reader's eye the entire sum of two millions called for will be made up. What extraordinary givers those Chicago men are! It is exhilarating those Chicago men are! It is exhilarating even at this distance to see the superb confidence with which they back up their town. Other cities get bequests now and then, but Chicago's rich men have not had time to die, and neither she nor they can wait for that. They want to see that investment in actual being. If any eastern listener is holding his ear to the ground to catch the thud of Chicago's collarse he catch the thud of Chicago's collapse, he might as well get on his legs again and go about his business. There isn't going to be much of a thud. Those amazing hustlers are still at it, and though their tide may ebb a little for a time, it is bound to flow

Their sister Sarah was a slim girl, weighing only 155 pounds, but she could look over the heads of both Tom and Jim, for she stood 6 feet 6 1-2 inches.

"But John was the big boy of the family. He only lacked an inch of being seven feet high, and he weighed 500 pounds. Sister Mary was a midget of six feet two, and only weighed 149 pounds. Elijah wasn't very tall, either, being the same leight as his sister Mary, but he was of pretty fair heft, tipping the scales at 212. Hawaiian News.

Mr. Gresham Takes Documents to the President.

NO OFFICIAL NEWS

There was great surprise expressed at the Navy Department this afternoon at the negative character of the news from Hawaii. Various theories were propounded, but none with more reason and flavor of probability than that Minister Willis had been furnished with discretionary powers, and that he had found the state of things in Hawaii so different from what had been supposed that he withheld positive action until he could further communicate with this government. It is now believed that Admiral Skerrett, on his arrival here on the China, forwarded to the State Department a dispatch from Mr. Willis announce ing that in the three days that had elapsed between his arrival and the sailing of the China he had discovered enough to convince him that the restoration of the queen could not be accomplished without difficul ty. On the basis of this, it is thought he

Those First Instructions. Whatever may be the outcome, the nature of Mr. Willis' first instructions will always be a matter of great interest. There is just enough doubt as to their character to give the color of credence to the claim made by the State Department officials that the course of the administration would ultimately be approved by popular sentiment. There was a very general belief today, after the first news came, that the queen cannot now be restored without serious trouble. Naval officers say that the golden of portunity has gone. If nothing could be done in the lapse of ten days between the arrival of Mr. Willis and the sailing of the China nothing could be done in a month or a year, especially after Mr. Dole receives word of the sentiment in this country in his favor. The State Department Feeling. The State Department officials today eemed to take a certain amount of satisfaction on the basis of the news that came by steamer. They refused to talk, but chuckled among themselves at what they termed the "discomfiture of the sensationalists." Whether their glee came from a ment, and about 1:30 o'clock gathered a packet of documents and went out to visit the President, who, like himself, had been nptly advised of the news brought by

A Statement of the Situation.

This news, however, came from the partment was not even aware of the arrival of the steamer. This was accounted for by the fact that the department's communications from Minister Willis must pass through the hands of Dispatch Agent equally as willing to kill the man who stood between him and his plunder.

The only member of the family who sought respectability is Zeke Starr, an uncle of Henry, who is now treasurer of the Cherokee nation through the hands of Dispatch Agent Cooper at San Francisco. These communications, or, at least, the essential one, would be in cypher, for Mr. Willis was prepared to use this, probably through the help of the naval officers on the Philadelphia or the Adams. These cypher dispatches must necessarily be transmitted slowly to insure accuracy, and thus the delay was accounted for. The General Impression.

The general impression of those who heard of the news from Hawaii this afternoon was that the fact of the queen not tration.

The belief is that Mr. Willis, having failed to secure the restoration of the queen ed to secure the restoration of the queen promptly, her restoration will now become an impossibility, since the Hawaiians will be informed on the arrival of steamers which sailed from San Francisco several days ago of the condition of public sentiment here and the provisional government feeling itself sustained by the American people will resist any attempt on the part of Mr. Willis to restore the queen. Among the few who had heard of the reports from Hawaii, members of Congress and others, is an almost universal expression of satisfaction that the great wrong which they feared has not yet been acwhich they feared has not yet been ac-complished.

TO HANDICAP BALL CLUBS.

To handicap the clubs of the base ball league and thus make the race close and interesting is the novel and good idea of Al

Al Spink's Clever Idea for a Better Race in the Lengue.

Spink, editor of the Sporting News. Mr. Spink says: "The formation of the twelve clubs today leaves no possible doubt but that Boston has a team that outclasses all the rest. Pittsburg, Cleveland and Philadelphia come next, and then in the third division Brooklyn, New York and Baltimore seem evenly matched. St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville have been represented by aggregations that of late years have been fighting for tail-end honors. Next season the clubs will start out classed in about this order and the interest in the outcome of the championship contest will be limited almost to Boston, Pittsburg and Cleveland. Now, this is bound to have a bad effect on the attendance in the remainmovement in prices, based on this belief, is anticipated. There is enough uncertainty surrounding this subject, however, to make traders cautious in their dealings, and risks are limited to the minimum.

Sugar was the only feature in the market and was sold freely by the veterans, who are evidently in possession of some inforleague pennant race would be much more interesting if the contestants were handicapped so each and every one of them would start out with an equal chance of success. According to their work the past season Boston could concede to St. Louis, Louisville, Chicago and Cincinnati, say, twenty games apiece, and then have an equal show of winning. The difference in their playing strength is the reason, and the remaining seven clubs could be handi-capped on the same line. Three intelligent players, like Ward, Comiskey and Anson, with the assistance of a few good newspaper men, who should be given the power to in-terfere when any favoritism was shown, would make a good handicapping board Many people with whom I have discussed the scheme think interested players or club magnates should not have anything to do with the handicapping. The scheme would never succeed and become popular unless fair and impartial handicapping was had."

The Looming McKinley. T. C. Crawford in the New York Sun. Mr. McKinley, who is on the wrong side of fifty years, is still in vigorous health. He

Mr. McKinley has never scattered. He started out from the first to become an authority upon the tariff. He has slept with the tariff all through his political life, and has never made a speech upon any other subject. He has solved all of the mystery of the schedules of the most complicated divisions of the tariff law, and has an argument ready for the present tariff system. He did not arrive at such a knowledge in a day. He began his early political career by marrying well. He was from a judicious realization of the trend of opinion, is only to be surmised. Secretary Gresham responded to a query from The Star that there was "nothing at all—nothing at all—nothing at all—nothing at all."

Dr. H. S. Smith in the North American Review

The "harmless lunatic," outside an asylum, occupies a position strictly analogous to that of the historic "unloaded" pistol. Each is, I think, responsible for about the same number of homicides. But the harmless weapon stops at that, while the harmless man easily takes the paim by adding a long list of other crimes. For most of these crimes the community can thank itself, because it foolishly tolerated in its midst a person whose only safe place of residence was an asylum. But one should not judge too harshly these excesses of altruism. We should remember rather that the extreme tolerance shown these unfortuity is but a manifestation of that love of liberty which has mad- possible the civilization in which we live. The ages which cast their paranolacs into dungeons or executed them for witchcraft did not foster the spirit of liberty. Still, one may, as I and the lesson taught the community from time to time by "harmless lunatics," who shoot their fellow-citizens, explodamong them and the like, is wholesome and necessary, even though severe. A single bomb exploded in New York not many months ago resulted indirectly in the confinement of a greater number of insane persons who would otherwise before this have committed a long category of crimes. The lesson cost a life, it is true, but quite possibly it saved a score of lives. The community was made to realize vividly what over a lienter hour. every alienist knew, that the first untoward act by which the supposed harmiess insane person manifested his true condition might be an irreparable one. The lesson had been taught often enough before. Within a de cade it had been emphasized by the murdel of a chief executive of our country; but memory is fleeting, and its permanent records come only with many repetitions. Another year, and, it may safely be pre-dicted, the New York juror will have for-gotten the Norcross incident, and habeas corpus suits for removing "sane" persons from asylums will flourish again as of yore.
